Where the Desert Lures and the Climate Cures

Desert Diary

By R. B.

It's amazing how things do grow here in the "high desert" country — and interesting how few people really know it and pass the information along.

At the dance in Joshua Tree last Saturday night there was a beautiful bouquet of large red roses placed near the entrance. They were brought by Mrs. E. J. Dingle who grows them in her front yard at the Mentalphysics establishment just a mile up the road.

"I have a whole garden of them right outside my front door," Mrs. Dingle said. "People who think we can't grow things up here should be told."

So you non-believers are hereby tipped-off. As you drive by Mentalphysics — if you stretch up a bit you can see 'em — beautiful roses, home grown, and right here in Joshua Tree.

Many folks liked the story on Kenny Whiting (Joshua Journal, April 20) who made a marvelous recovery from arthritis in the valley here — a tribute to the health benefits of this climate. There are many others here who can testify to this blessing.

Pauline Williams of Yucca Valley is one. Three years ago she came to the valley from Bell Gardens, Calif. She was unable to walk. After one year here she had whipped the arthritis and was able to go to work for her own living.

Crowd Estimated at 2000 Witness 4th Annual Turtle Races; Rogers Wins Prize

A crowd estimated at close to 2000 witnessed the fourth running of the annual Joshua Tree Turtle Races here Sunday. The winning "sweepstakes" turtle was "jockeyed" by O. E. Tedder, who proudly posed for the numerous photographers attracted to the event.

Winner of the grand drawing sponsored by the chamber of commerce was Curtis Rogers of Joshua Tree. He won a beautiful Philco refrigerator.

The gala Sunday touched-off a week-end of activity here which began with a dance Saturday night at the community hall, attended by most of the townspeople and a good number of visitors.

Brightly painted turtles of all sizes competed for the prizes for the six-race program. "Herkimer" was the name of the big money winner and sweepstakes winner.

Here are the winners:

1st race — 1st, Teddy Jones; 2nd, Elwood Smith; 3rd, Patricia Boyliss.

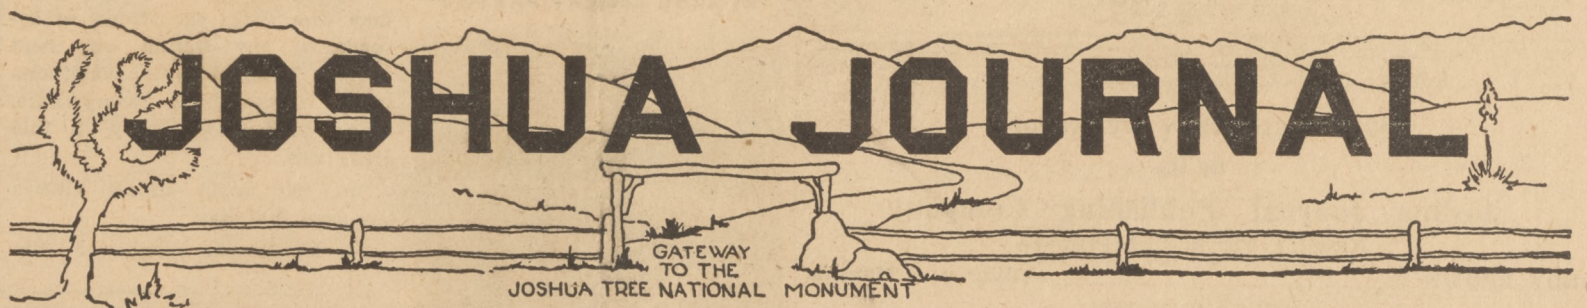

2nd race — 1st, Allen and Clark; 2nd, Bobby Jones; 3rd, Ben Pietchman.

3rd race — 1st, Jack Bunker; 2nd, Mrs. Russell Hayden; 3rd, Ben Pietchman.

4th race — Geo. Hoover; 2nd, Mrs. Thomas J. Burns; 3rd, Mrs. Mary Ojala.

5th race — 1st, Ben Pietchman; 2nd, Bobby Jones; 3rd, Herb Allen.

6th race, Sweepstakes — 1st, O. E. Tedder; 2nd, Mike Gage; 3rd, Dean Ledesma.

Turkey Show Slated for Rancho Sun Valley Sometime in October

A turkey show for Rancho Sun Valley sometime in October has definitely been decided upon as a result of the Sun Valley club meeting last Thursday evening. The date for the event has not yet been settled, but a committee was formed to start planning.

Forrest Summers, one of the turkey colony, was appointed chairman.

The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chesler. Also under discussion was paving of the road from the 29 Palms highway into Sun Valley. Robert Tootle was appointed to prepare a petition to forward to the county supervisors.

Joshua Chapel Near Completion; Opening Service Slated May 15th

Completion of the new Joshua Tree Community Chapel will be completed in the next few days and the opening services have tentatively been set for Sunday, May 15, Rev. D. C. Williams announced yesterday.

The $10,000 structure is in the last stages of construction by Wright and Sons, Desert Hot Springs contractors. The building unit will include a sanctuary-chapel, social hall, and kitchen.

The completion of the chapel climaxes two years of spadework by Rev. Williams and members of the various church committees who sought to bring this community church to Joshua Tree.

"The chapel will represent a worthwhile institution for the community of Joshua Tree," the pastor told the JOURNAL in an interview.

DEFINITE PROGRAM

A definite church program will be embarked on in conjunction with the opening of the new church he said.

The only "hitch" to date, Rev. Williams said, is getting electricity to the premises of the chapel. The power lines as yet do not extend as far back as the site of the new building.

"We are attempting to solve this problem this week," he added.

The pastor left for Twentynine Palms yesterday to confer with California Electric Power Company on the matter.

High School Tax Approved by Voters

Voters of the Victor Valley high school district endorsed the tax increase for the high school from 75 cents to $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation in the April 22 election.

In the Joshua Tree precinct only 23 votes were cast—14 "yes" and 9 "no." The Morongo and Yucca Valley precincts did not endorse the proposal as only 12 said "yes" and 35 "no."

Additional funds raised will be used for increased operational costs, new equipment for buildings now under construction and replacement of school buses.

Of the 1091 votes cast throughout the district, there were 723 "yes" and 368 "no." Twentynine Palms balloted 112 for the measure and 55 against it.

The returns were revealed this week by M. J. Harkness, district superintendent and Ray H. Moore, district business manager, when they were in Twentynine Palms on a business trip in the interest of the schools.

RECRUITS WANTED

Lieutenant C. J. Galvin, USCG, Chief of the 11th CG District Recruiting Section, announced today that a quota increase now enables the Coast Guard in this area to enlist 30 additional recruits each month.

Parents Observe School Week

Public Schools' Week was celebrated Friday afternoon at the Joshua Tree School. Twelve parents and friends responded to invitations sent earlier in the week, a fine showing with everyone so busy this last week-end. The preschool children who came with their parents were: Rolly Gage, Chuck Lafferty, Ronnie and Johnnie Duval, and the youngest Mike Marble.

The teacher, Mrs. Vera Braham, led a discussion of trains and cargo, which was followed by the showing of a colored film, "The Freight Train." After an evaluation of what they had learned from the film, the children wrote stories suggested by it.

A social time closed the session, with the girls serving the cookies they had baked and the punch, which was paid for by the donations from the boys of the class.

Josh 'Cubs' Open Season at 29 Palms

The Joshua Tree "Cubs" softball team was tangling with the 29 Palms high school boys team as the Journal went to press last night. The game opened at valley softball league. Miss Mary Ann Pekarovich, "Miss 29 Palms", tossed out the first ball.

The Cubs have been practicing for the past few weeks and have been pronounced ready to give good competition to other teams by Manager Bob Garry.

Earth Tremors

A slight earthquake early Monday morning waked some of our sleeping population — but not many the Journal learned. The tremor struck at 3:29 a.m. and lasted from two to five seconds.

The only damage brought to our attention: A bottle of mayonnaise fell from the shelf at a 29 Palms grocery.

Realty Board Dinner

Several real estate brokers from Morongo Valley, Yucca Valley, Piñonville and Joshua Tree met at Bouchey's last night in a dinner-meeting to discuss formation of a valley realty board. Cyril Millington, Morongo Valley, broker, arranged the meeting with other valley brokers. Further details will be announced in a later issue of the Journal.

Screen Writer Roots For His Favorites While Enjoying Joshua Tree Turtle Derby

(Writer of Cisco Kid film stories)

BY JACK BENTON

Shades of Santa Anita, Hialeah, Saratoga, and Suffolk Downs! I didn't believe it possible, but here it was, jockeys and all, a series of turtle races! Turtles literally straining at their leashes — their "jockeys" — men, women, and children, tensely awaiting the starting signal. Then it came — a whistle, and the contestants were off — with their jockies hastening to get out of the way.

All of the races were exciting, but the opening event was a dilly. This was won by a small turtle who evidently had been told prior to the race that he needn't come home to mama if he lost, for he headed for the outer and winning circle like Man-O-War.

This event was a heart-breaker for the owner of one of the entries, a man in his forties, whose entry drew into his shell just prior to the whistle refused to come out until after the race had been run.

A boy of about ten, owner of another entry in the third race which refused to budge from the "starting gate" was an object of disgust and dejection. But his dad comforted the lad with a dollar bill.

The size of crowd was indeed a revelation, as was the keen interest displayed by the spectators. And much to my own amazement, I found myself yelling and whooping it up for my favorite when he and three or four other entries were running neck-and-neck.

From now on, I am a confirmed habitue of the turtle race track at Joshua Tree!

GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

It has become very popular to talk about the importance of saving our American way of life. As a matter of fact, the only way we can lose it is for the American people themselves to become so negligent in exercising the rights and privileges they have under our form of government that the liberties they take for granted will go by default.

We have to work at being Americans if we wish to perpetuate the blessings left to us by our forefathers. American parents must strive to help develop character in their children, which is necessary to combat enemies both from within and without our borders. The essential qualification for the perpetuation of our representative form of government is character, and that is developed on a foundation of religious teaching.

National Sunday School Week is sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, a non-sectarian, non-profit organization created to bring about a better understanding of the important part religion has played in creating and maintaining our government. Helping develop character in children through some form of religious training cannot be delegated by parents to someone else.

A good time to reawaken old-fashioned ideas is to go to Sunday School with the family, and thereby help counteract the teachings of alien, godless ideologies.

Lowly Philosophy

THE JOSHUAS

SPRINGTIME

It is springtime, planting time, a time for new life and new growth in all nature, and man is a part of nature in its highest development.

It is springtime, blossom time, and the trees are putting on dresses of shining new leaves. To each of us it should bring some new beauty and to the soul, an expanding grace.

It is springtime, cleaning time, a time to discard the old and bring in the new. And our mental-houses should receive first consideration.

Springtime brings inspiration, animation, and zest. And to man it is a challenge; a challenge to do his best!

TURTLE RACE VISITORS

Yucca Valley had a good representation at the Turtle Races on Sunday with several of the localities entering turtles in the races. Among those seen at the Joshua Tree affair were: Hilda Hardesty, Dorothy Stephenson, Harriet Garvin, Homer and Ruth Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw of Los Angeles drove out Friday to spend the week-end at their cottage in Yucca Valley.

Let's Go Fishing!

There's hardly a conscientious man who walks the streets or by-roads of any Nation who isn't deeply troubled over conditions today. Everything, everywhere, seems to be topsy-turvy in this crazy age.

But the world almost always has been that way.

So, let Russia stew over the Atlantic Pact, the Marshall Plan or the Berlin Airlift . . . let Congress fret and fume with the woes of America . . . let the malcontents, Communists and others rant and rave. Let the world go hang for awhile.

In California, May 1 marks the opening of trout season. So let's go fishing. Perhaps some of the supposedly insoluble problems can resolve themselves

Pioneertown News

BY GLORIA EISENBRUCH

Enjoying the hospitality of Joshua Tree at the turtle races were quite a number from Pioneertown, all prepared after spending the week rounding up turtles that were big, small, fast and slow. Entered in the first race were Laura Lipps, Lillian Hayden and Curt Bush, but their little fellers under six inches were not very fast.

It took the big turtles to do the trick. In the second race with Joey Tunstall, Marie Bush and Lillian Hayden entered along with the many others, Mrs. Hayden's turtle came off with second prize. In the fourth race were Marie Bush, Austin and Conny Thomson, and Mr. and Mrs. Burns, with Jerry Burns' turtle romping in for second prize.

With someone from Pioneertown entered in each race there was loud hooping from these Pioneertowners: Sissy White, Joey Tunstall, Mary Ellen Edwards, Eloise Jefferies, Mousie Hayden, Gloria Eisenbruch, Laura Lipps, Joe Benton, Dee Dee Tunstall, June and Cliff Downing and "Lucky" Stevens.

We all had a grand time and we will be looking forward to the races next year when we will all be there again with our turtles.

Frank McDonald, one of Pioneertown's co-founders, was here last week. He is collaborating on a story with Edmund Lowe called, "If I Should Die" and will make the picture sometime in July after Elizabeth Meehan does the screen play. Frank will direct and Lowe will star.

One of the interesting observations of Jack Benton, screen writer of the Cisco Kid stories, here Sunday for the turtle races: "These

Wildflower Tour Slated for May 8

The first desert wildflower tour, conducted by the National Park Service on April 24, was so well received by 58 visitors and residents that another tour is scheduled for Sunday May 8.

The May 8 tour will be in the vicinity of Lost Horse Valley and to the relatively unknown area of Juniper Flat. A different crop of annuals will be viewed and discussed as well as the more striking blooms of the perennials. It is anticipated that the mohave mound, the beavertail, deerhorn and other cacti will be in bloom. The Joshua Tree Flowers, though not as profuse as usual, will be in evidence and this interesting hilly will be studied and discussed.

The National Park Service encourages everyone to advise visitors to this area of the free desert wildflower tour which will convene at Keys View Road Junction which is 20 miles from Four Corners in Twentynine Palms and 16 miles from the town of Joshua Tree. The time to convene at this point will be at 10:00 a.m., Sunday May 8.

Molly Malone, Radio Entertainer, Visits

Molly Malone, versatile radio star of the "Molly and Mike Show" was one of the Hollywood visitors here for the turtle races. She is a Joshua Tree property owner and attends the races every year.

Molly, besides her radio show, runs conducted bus tours to desert and mountain resorts from Hollywood. She plans one of her "Merry Go Round Motor Trips" for this area in the near future.

New "Corner Store" 'Tack' Shop Opened Has Opening Sale In Pioneertown

The "Corner Store" in Yucca Valley is now completely restocked with fresh merchandise in the drug, sundry and cosmetic lines, according to Louis Cantz, new owner and manager of the store. Cantz, a resident of Joshua Tree, recently purchased the establishment from Fred Storey. It was formerly known as Lamberty's and Yucca Village Drug Store.

Cantz invites all valley residents to visit the "Corner Store" during the grand opening sale. Free delivery service is one of the services the store will afford. Cantz said.

During the 3 day opening sale event free ice cream will be served all children accompanied by their parents.

The Bible Study Group will meet with Mrs. H. K. Lee on Wednesday evening at 7:30 with Mr. J. R. Phillips leading.

Pastor D. C. Williams read a portion of the first chapter of Isaiah, basing his sermon on the 18th verse: "Come let us reason together."

"Man turns to politics, philosophy or science to solve his problems — but when he learns to reason with God the way of life is made clear.

"It is the work of the church to teach men to worship and to tithe his time and substance. Then the success of men is assured, financially and religiously.

Mass Vaccination By County Announced

Health Department rabies vaccination clinics to assist dog owners in securing 1949-1950 licenses that are required by County Ordinance 606-616 will be held in virtually every community in San Bernardino County sometime between May 7 and June 7. Dr. W. C. Bateman, County Veterinarian, announced today. Dogs will be vaccinated by a practicing veterinarian at the mass vaccination rate of $1.00. County dog license tags must also be purchased at time of vaccination at $1.50 for males and spayed female dogs, and $2.00 for female dogs.

Those who have already had their pets vaccinated but have not obtained the license tags may purchase the tags at the clinics or at the San Bernardino office of the County Health Department by presenting their vaccination certificate. Notice of dates, hours, and places of clinics will be announced at a later date in this newspaper, Dr. Bateman said.

Milk Strike

By Betty Barclay

MOST homemakers now and then have a milk strike right at their own dining tables. A junior member of the family may occasionally come up with, "Aw, Mom, do I have to drink my milk?" Even a senior member may cast a disdainful look in your direction, together with a remark to the effect that he isn't a baby. Then is the time for strategy — in the form of this Baked Chocolate Custard. It is just as beneficial, you know, to eat milk as to drink it — and eating it in this form is a pleasure. Chocolate gives a custard extra appetite appeal, too. Dollars to doughnuts, Baked Chocolate Custard will prove a quick and easy strike-breaker.

Baked Chocolate Custard

1 square unsweetened chocolate; 2 cups milk; 2 eggs; ¼ cup sugar; ½ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler 8 minutes, or until chocolate is melted and bubbles begin to appear around sides of pan. Then beat with rotary egg beater until blended.

Meanwhile, beat eggs with rotary egg beater until foamy. Add sugar, salt, and vanilla. Add hot chocolate mixture gradually, stirring constantly. Pour into 6 custard cups. Place in pan of hot water, having water reach level of custard in cups. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 35 minutes. Serve slightly warm in cups or chill and unmold in serving dishes. Serve with cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Health For All

HELPING CONTROL TB

Tuberculosis, a communicable disease which kills Americans at the rate of one person every 11 minutes, can be eradicated. It will not be eradicated, however, unless people all over the country realize the threat this preventable disease is and insist upon adequate measures to bring it under complete control.

It is estimated there are 500,000 people with active tuberculosis in this country. Only about half of these are known to the health authorities. That means there are approximately a quarter of a million "unknown" cases of tuberculosis in the United States. In order to eradicate tuberculosis, these "unknown" cases must be found and treatment provided for the individuals suffering from the disease.

Many people with tuberculosis do not realize they are ill because the disease has no outward symptoms in its early stage. Thus, apparently healthy people may have tuberculosis without knowing it and, at the same time, may be spreading their disease to others, since tuberculosis is contagious even in its early stage.

Tuberculosis can be detected, however, in the early stage by means of a chest X-ray. That is why official health agencies and voluntary tuberculosis associations, together with the medical profession, advocate the regular chest X-ray examination of the entire adult population.

In many parts of the country, group and even community X-ray services are being conducted in an effort to find all unknown cases of tuberculosis. Where such services are offered, every adult should take advantage of them by getting a chest X-ray and by urging others to do so. If such services are not available in his community, he should ask his doctor, the health department or his tuberculosis association about chest X-ray facilities in the community and make a point of getting an X-ray at least once a year.

Finding the unknown cases of tuberculosis is only part of the battle against this disease. It will do little good to find tuberculosis unless treatment is provided for the person suffering from this disease which can be cured. The people, therefore, should inform themselves concerning the facilities for the care of the tuberculous in their state and, if they are inadequate, insist that provision be made for the proper treatment of tuberculous patients.

RANCHO SUN VALLEY

Yes, they are going fast—these fine 1 1/2, 3, 6 and 10 acre ranches on the high desert near Joshua Tree on the Twentynine Palms Road.

A community born of an idea is now growing at an astounding rate. Many families, tired of the smog and irritations of city life, are engaging in the profitable turkey raising industry. Their profits are building homes, ranch buildings and providing a fine living in this fertile, healthful desert area.

In Rancho Sun Valley you'll find all modern conveniences—water, electricity and paved streets serving every ranch. Experienced growers are your neighbors; feed financing is available; a cooperative market awaits your turkeys.

Visit Rancho Sun Valley—talk to the growers who are reaping profits from turkeys. It's just 130 miles east of Los Angeles; only a 45 minute drive from Palm Springs. You can own your own ranch for as little as one-third down and the balance in easy monthly payments.

DOORWAY TO THE WORLD

Through the telephone you can enter more than 60,000,000 homes and offices around the globe . . . your telephone is indeed your doorway to the world.

And today you can reach more people on the telephone than ever before . . . and more people can reach you. For example, there are twice as many telephones in use on the Pacific Coast now than there were ten years ago. This means that the possibilities of the telephone have been enormously enlarged . . . that its value has been tremendously increased.

Yet the cost of telephone service is still low . . . one of the big bargains of the times.
